REMOTE PRODUCTION SERVICES

What is Remote Production?

Remote Production is a mix of a remote team combined with vetted local production crews. This combo enables us to create high quality content anywhere in the world, at a fair price, with a faster turnaround.

Why use Remote Production?

Smaller on-site crews, lower costs, high quality, less time, higher volume. See an average savings of 25% by using our remote production team combined with a small vetted local production team. Create more high caliber content for less money.

REMOTE PRODUCTION STAGES

Pre-Production

Entirely Remote

Creative strategy and meticulous planning take center stage. We'll develop the idea, prep all production details, and lock in locations and production crew.

Production

Combination of Remote and On-Site Local Crew

Our remote Producers work closely with the local production crew to ensure the production flows smoothly and we capture everything needed on shoot day.

Post Production

Entirely Remote

Our post production team brings the magic together. We use online review systems to collect consolidated feedback and move the edits along smoothly.
